Well, I have been dealing with “music archeology” for some time now... lest we forget top bands from our domestic underground. There have indeed been so many great bands who`ve disappeared in the seas of oblivion. One of these precious gems are FUNERAL VISION from Cracow; they released just one recording and vanished from Poland`s underground music scene. In order to refresh their music, I decided to re-release their IT... and instead of providing you with their dry biographical facts, I opted to interview the band instead and thus elaborate on their history a bit further. Ok, no need to waste our time. Lads and ladies, this is FUNERAL VISION from Cracow.
