In the beginning of 1980's, the Metal scene was in a vital period of transformation. Thrash arrived, N.W.O.B.H.M became a parody, glam and hairspray groups became the main trend....In America there was a sissy band named SLAUGHTER, and many people thought that this wasn't the most appropriate name for such music. Then, three guys from Toronto, Canada had exactly the same opinion and in August of 1984 they decided to form their own band and also call SLAUGHTER – this time, for all the right reasons.

It's hard to believe 3 decades have passed since these Canadian Metal gods SLAUGHTER released their first demo in that year 1984. To commemorate 30 years of savage, mayhem & noise, Afterlife Productions proudly present SLAUGHTER "Demos Box" – a compilation covering of all their old rusty demo tapes, is unleashed to attack your senses! A unique double-tape release which both housed in a hard cardboard outer box, hand-numbered to 500 copies. First time ever made by us. Both tapes cover used the original demo artwork, sleeve crammed with classic photos, recording information and a long well-written history.

It's still sounds fresh and inviting even by today's standards. At any rates, we are ready to take a time capsule back to this pretty badass introduction to one of the world's classic Death Thrash Metal bands. Especially "Surrender Or Die", the most remembered and successful demo they ever did, just hear the tape intro! Straight-forward Death Thrash demo. A truly frenzied attack from beginning to end...
