

What a piece of amazing punk/hard-core/grind from Brazil! Released jointly by infamous Brazilian COGUMELO and US's GREYHAZE, this stuff crushes totally.

Plenty of pure underground rawness, very organic sound and 22 very enjoyable tracks.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is brutal music of high caliber, plain and fucking simple. I am not sure if I can provide any more info about the band since I can't find any, but I can assure you this'll be well spent money should you choose STOMACHAL CORROSION for your collection.

And don't be put off by this album's lame layout – don't matter, really. Stand-out songs: "No, nothing", "You Fool" and "Mental Disdain" and the cd's best cut - "I'm arrogant".

Yes, like you took the best bits of early NAPALM DEATH and BRUTAL TRUTH and blended them with each other. Excellent, in other words.
