

DEAD DOG's HOWL- Mausoleum of Confessed Thoughts CD (Fallen Temple)

Wpisany przez Oldchool Metal Maniac

poniedziałek, 25 maja 2020 15:54 - Poprawiony poniedziałek, 25 maja 2020 18:57

The Dead Dog's Howl resounds from the furthest recesses of the mind! Polish veteran maniac Dreyer (guitars) approached Raspulin (vocals, bass, drums, Cemetery Lights) to invoke the rites of the ANCIENT 90s SOUTHERN BLACK METAL CULT.

Three dedications of MORBID VOID METAL were divined. The legendary Jim Mutilator (lyrics, ex-Rolling Christ) provided arcane texts to recite. The result is a nauseous descent into the "Mausoleum of Confessed Thoughts"!

DEAD DOG's HOWL- Mausoleum of Confessed Thoughts CD (Fallen Temple)

Wpisany przez Oldchool Metal Maniac

poniedziałek, 25 maja 2020 15:54 - Poprawiony poniedziałek, 25 maja 2020 18:57

This three-track demo from a Polish/American duo - DEAD DOG's HOWL brings forth around 18 minutes of raw and very obscure Black Metal. If you ask me, well, I will tell you this stuff is a bit like our "unholy"

C

ULTEDES GHOULES`

but, lo and behold, this might not be the greatest example since these two bands operate in slightly different fields of devilish music ghastliness; yes, the vocals are kind of similar and there is a lot of early

NECROMANTIA

in it – so present in

CULTES

music, too, indeed.

Anyhow, this demo appears very unpolished and aesthetic; the ruff sound makes these tracks seem even darker and more obscure - and this impression is even further enhanced by the minute use of organ. Ok, add some cadaveric and putrid atmosphere mixed with obscureness and this Mausoleum of Confessed Thoughts will get your attention, undeniably. This demo's for all who enjoy an underground type of music, yeah