

What the fuck is going on in here? I don't get it really, but why this stuff's been released on a crappy cdr? Well, if you want to release an album, go and fucking understand what crap a burnt cd is. Fuck this patch which has been added to this stuff...well, in two or three years this stuff'll not be playable again. A guy who releases stuff like this thinks he's saved some money. To manufacture cds aint that expensive, all right? Damn, I am really down when it comes to see this kind of shit...Well, anyways, this stuff is limited to 100 copies which is, surely, not enough for these who like this kind of music, I guess, as this material just fucking rules, ok.

Slow, jet black music with omnipresent Devil hiding behind these sounds. Cadaverous atmosphere oozes like cadaverous venom. NEKKROFUKK has made us accustomed to their cadaverous smelling music and with every next material they explore a more distant area of the Infernal abyss. The stench of an excrement pit full of decomposing bodies, pus that oozes from the loudspeakers. This music rolls over like a giant road roller which mercilessly crushes anything it comes across. This simple to the bone music is just damn powerful; lack of any virtuosic skills tells us who's the boss. Satan, urine, blood, sperm is, perhaps, one of the grimmest anthems that glorifies Hell. I do hope this stuff will be re-released in the vinyl format as it does deserve something better than some shitty cdr. LWS
