

The three track demo from a Gorzow Wielkopolski based band, is 20 minute long piece of depressive black metal. This material is totally dark and grim music which brings with itself some unreal anxiety, evil that hides somewhere behind a listener. You can almost feel the breath of Hell itself. Another track is a lazily flowing "In eternal void". This track speeds up here and there to return to its slow or mid-tempos again. Melodic, a bit lachrymose solos provide this song with a certain dose of melancholy. This demo ends with initially anxious and almost cold-wave "Katharsis (Lightstealer)". It is slightly influenced by black metal – especially when the sick vocals become hearable. Really, this track is totally depressing... you can feel some sick aura, something dark, and almost palpable evil emanating with the last breath of a dying corpse. The band offers a damn interesting and immensely moving piece of music. If you're into PRO FANATISM – get in touch profanatism666@gmail.com
